

Janice Dickinson - America's self-proclaimed first supermodel was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. in 1955. She's best known for conquering the covers of Vogue, Bazaar and Cosmopolitan magazines worldwide and judging on America's Next Top Model for four seasons. She is a the star of the reality TV world with her Oxygen network series, The Janice Dickinson Modeling Agency, which documents Dickinson's efforts to staff and operate a Hollywood modeling agency. She has appeared in three productions of Celebrity Get me Out of Here. After decades in the entertainment industry, Janice is now shifting her focus towards a fresh path in the music scene, and on social media platforms, generating over 300 million views and half a million followers thus far.

Her debut single, "I Coined It" back in 2022 packs a unique punch of dance/pop created to get you on the dance floor. She has had two other singles drop in 2023: "Get Into It" and "Floor", all in prep for her debut EP release this New Years Eve.
